About Brisbane

Brisbane is a fast-developing riverside city and Australia's third most populated city after Sydney and Melbourne. While Sydney may have the beaches and Melbourne may have the culture, Brisbane has both. The sunniest capital in the country, Brisbane has over 300 sunny days each year.

- The area is called Meanjin by the Turrbal people, one of two major local First Nations groups—the other being the Jagera. Meanjin means “place shaped like a spike,” a reference to the land where the Brisbane central business district (CBD) is now located, shaped by a bend in the Brisbane River.

Fun facts about the city

- Brisbane's beautiful City Hall is the largest in Australia. This is largely due to its clock tower, which reaches a height of 92 meters.
- Brisbane will host the 2032 Olympics and Paralympics, the third time they have been held in Australia, after Melbourne in 1956 and Sydney in 2000.
- Brisbane is central to many beaches, including the Gold Coast, Sunshine Coast, North Stradbroke Island, Moreton Island, and more.
